Internet Access

Students may access the Internet through computers labs in the library and select classrooms. The Community College System of NH Computer Services Department reserves the right to monitor and restrict user activity on the network. Failure to comply with policies will result in a loss of account privileges. Students must comply with all computer policies.