

Nursing (LPN to RN - Direct Entry)

Students who complete the RVCC Licensed Practical Nursing (LPN) Program may wish to apply for direct entry to the ASN-RN (Associate of Science Degree in Nursing) Program. There are limited spaces available and selection is based on:

- Successful completion of the RVCC LPN Program within the past two (2) years
- Current PN license
- Entry into the program is very competitive. Grade point average (GPA) for nursing courses will be considered during the admissions process.

This is a comprehensive study of the basic principles of microbiology. Emphasis is placed on understanding the variety and differences of microbes and their relationship to humans. A survey of the morphology, physiology, genetics and classification of bacteria, viruses and other organisms and their relationship to sanitation and infectious diseases are emphasized.

Laboratory work parallels lecture topics and includes microscopy, study of various microorganisms, biochemical analysis and biological experimentation. Laboratory exercises are highly-sequenced, outcome-driven, and require cognitive, psychomotor, and application of technical laboratory skills.
