

HSV125R : Service Coordination

This course is an introduction to service coordination. The emphasis will be on recognizing and enhancing human potential through the utilization of a strength-based approach. The three major phases of service coordination – assessment, planning, and implementation – will be explored. Topics covered include professional roles and responsibilities, legal and ethical issues, historical perspectives, and current models.

Credits 3

Lecture Hours 3

Prerequisite Courses

HSV110R

Prerequisites

(or corequisite)